Bail Bondsmen Right to Re-arrest Defendant and Enter Any Structure for that Purpose or Enter to Retrieve Collateral:

I/WE the Defendant, Indemnitor, and/or Co-Indemnitor for the purpose of the re-arrest and surrendering the Defendant hereby authorize and give explicit permission to the Agents or representatives from Universal Fire & Casualty Insurance Company to enter my residence and search for in accordance with state laws, where applicable and the authorities granted under the U.S. Supreme Court's Rule in Taylor v. Taintor, 16 Wall (U.S.) 366 (1873), _____ Licensed Bail Bond Agents or Bail Recovery Agents who are authorized by the Bail Bond Agent, may break in and enter and search for the Defendant without a warrant. An arrest warrant is not needed. The arrest is not made by virtue of new process; none is needed.

United States Supreme Court opinion on the bondsman's right to arrest. "When bail is given, the principal is regarded as delivered to the custody of his sureties. Their dominion is a Continuance of the original imprisonment. Whenever they choose to do so, they may seize him and deliver him up to their discharge; and if that cannot be done at once they may imprison him until it can be done. They may exercise their rights in person or by agent. They may pursue him into another State; may arrest him on the Sabbath; and if necessary, may break in and enter his house for that purpose. The seizure is not made by virtue of new process. None is needed. It is likened to the re-arrest by the sheriff of an escaping prisoner." Taylor v Taintor, 16 Wall (U.S) 366 (1873)
